THE WINNING TICKET.

Yesterday's work at Anaconda means a republican Waterloo. Ever since their fatal mistake of last week the republican leaders have been hoping against hope that the democratic convention would commit some serious blunder that would give them a chance to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat. That hope is dead. The democratic convention has met, presented its platform and its candidates to the people, harmonized every difference, healed every breach and adjourned without the slightest break to give comfort to the enemy.

More than that it has nominated for its two leading candidates, governor and representative in congress, men who have never yet been beaten in contests before the people and who have put to rout the strongest men their opponents could pit against them.

Joseph K. Toole and Martin Maginnis will be respectively the next governor and representative of the state of Montana. Both have served the people of the territory long and well. In the long struggle for recognition of Montana's right to statehood both have borne a distinguished and honorable part. No territory ever had the good fortune to be represented at Washington by two men more devoted to its welfare and every interest. The party would have been ungrateful indeed had it failed to respond to the universal popular demand that both these able and useful public servants should be accorded honor in equal portion by the first convention to elect officers for the new state.

It is unnecessary here to sketch in detail the careers of these two candidates. They are known to every voter from one end of Montana to the other. Their records are as clear as the day. No apology will have to be made for either of them, and the party that has placed them in nomination will not have to fight behind the breastworks.

The ticket is strong at every point. Mr. Conrad, the candidate for lieutenant-governor, is one of the foremost citizens and business men of eastern Montana. Messrs. DeWolfe, Armstrong and Bickford make a judiciary ticket which for learning, legal ability and high character would do credit to any state, and it is fitting that the selection of such a bench should be supplemented by the choice of a lawyer so able and accomplished as Judge Pemberton to be attorney general of the new commonwealth.

The selection of Joseph A. Browne of Beaverhead, for secretary of state, is a strong and popular one. Honest Jerry Collins, the well known journalist of Great Falls, will make a faithful and vigilant guardian of the state treasury. Messrs. Fitzgerald, Cope and Russell will fill with honor and credit the offices of auditor, supreme court clerk and superintendent of public instruction, to which they have been respectively nominated.

To crown the good work and make success doubly sure came the selection of Marcus Daly to be chairman of the state committee. Those who know Mr. Daly's abilities as an organizer and manager of great and successful business enterprises, and every citizen of Montana does know them, will understand what a political canvass will be under his energetic guidance and direct-tion. It means organization, and organization means victory. It was a great day for Montana.

READ THE PLATFORM.

There is light in every line of the platform. Every sentence tells a wholesome truth; every plank is a campaign issue. As a whole it is a ringing, aggressive, clearly defined declaration of democratic principles. A united democracy can stand on it and win on it, and the hundreds of republicans who are ashamed of and are leaving their own party will find it a life-rail on which they may safely make port.

It is an American platform, a United States platform, a Montana platform. It has something to say about every live question, and it says it. It touches every Montana interest that is at stake this year, exposes the bad faith and worse practices of the republican administration, and makes clear to every intelligent voter the ever-living truth that the lasting prosperity and happiness of the people are only attained when they live under a government controlled by democratic principles.

It is a winning platform and winning candidates stand on it.

THE forest fires now in close proximity to the city again remind our citizens that they cannot move too soon in the matter of a water supply. The petition of leading citizens against city ownership of the water works indicates that public sentiment is not yet in favor of such a step. The private companies that can really undertake to give the city an adequate service should lose no time in submitting their propositions to public inspection.

IF THE democrats of Lewis and Clarke will nominate a county and legislative ticket that comes up to the level of the state ticket they can carry the county. It is a year when the best men in the party ought to be pressed into the public service. Every democrat should be a patriot.

IF OUR republican contemporaries prefer to keep silent about their candidates they will find enough cold facts in the democratic platform to discuss for the next thirty days.

THE republicans are going to begin that aggressive campaign in Montana where they get their breastworks so high that the fighters are concealed from view.

Now register, or you can't vote!

WANT SEPARATE TRIALS.

The Cronin Suspects Not Anxious to Appear Before the Bar Together.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The cases of Coughlin, Burke, Bege, Kuno and O'Sullivan, charged with complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin, on May 4 last, came to trial yesterday. At the opening of the court State Attorney Longenecker stated that three of the defendants would ask for separate trials. The attorney for John Kuno asked for a separate trial and read a long affidavit in which Kuno stated he never knew Dr. Cronin during the latter's lifetime. He declared he was entirely innocent of any murder complicity or knowledge of the murder.

Counsel for Detective Coughlin read an affidavit, saying that if his client was tried with the other defendants it would involve the introduction of testimony which, while inapplicable to Coughlin, would nevertheless prejudice his case. Counsel then read an affidavit by Coughlin himself, asserting his innocence of complicity with the crime. Counsel for Patrick O'Sullivan read an affidavit by his client, asserting that certain evidence to be introduced against others of the defendants would be prejudicial to his case, also asserting innocence of the crime charged. Similar affidavits for separate trials were presented in behalf of Patrick O'Sullivan, Martin Burke and Frank Woodruff. The hearing was then adjourned till tomorrow.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Packing House Destroyed at Kansas City—Some Other Fires.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—The smoke house and rendering works of Swift & Co.'s packing establishment were destroyed by fire yesterday, involving a loss of $150,000, with $120,000 insurance. The firemen labored under serious disadvantages, owing to an inadequate water pressure, and had the wind not fortunately shifted the whole works would have been destroyed, involving a loss of no less than $500,000.

An investigation shows that two employees, L. Fate and David Tanning, lost their lives in the flames.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 27.—The Union Furniture company burned last night, loss $100,000. Ralph Emerson, jr., the only son of President Emerson, of the Emerson Manufacturing company, while holding a hose on his father's building, fell and was killed.

PORT COSTA, Cal., Aug. 27.—A fire occurred at Monar's warehouse this morning and spread to the shipping, involving a loss probably of $100,000.

A number of Southern Pacific freight cars, laden with grain, were also destroyed, and only hard work saved several large warehouses. The total loss on all the property destroyed will reach $200,000. There was insurance of perhaps $300,000.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 27.—There was a fire in the Clifton block yesterday. Several firms suffered losses aggregating $100,000.

Want the Case Against Field Dismissed.

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 27.—District Attorney White appeared before Justice of the Peace Wayne this morning and moved to dismiss the warrant issued against Justice Stephen Field, charging him with being a party to the killing of David S. Terry, and which had been sworn out by State Attorney General Terry. The action, the district attorney said, was based on a letter of the attorney general of the state to the effect that attorney directing that such course should be followed.

An Unpopular Ticket.

BILLINGS, Aug. 27.—Some latent dissatisfaction is cropping out in the republican ranks on account of the recent state nominations, and more or less opposition will result before election.

THE SECOND DAY.

Some Good Races Witnessed Though the Day Dawned Very Inauspiciously.

The Track for Awhile Obscured With Smoke and Dust, Which, However, Clears Away.

Favorites as a Rule Win—The Pool Rooms Crowded With Those Anxious to Take Chances.

The second day of the fair dawned more smoky and cloudy than any one could have predicted. As the hours advanced toward noon a hard whistling wind increased its headwinds and clouds of dust from the roadways leading to the city enveloped the people traveling in buggies or other vehicles. The density of the smoky atmosphere was intensified by a dark and heavy cloud, and at 3 p. m. a lantern was necessary in the auction pool box to enable the clerks to correctly issue the tickets. A blizzing whirlwind of fire opposite the grand stand and not more than three quarters of a mile away added to the weird scenery, and when at about half past three, some idiot shouted "fire," there was something in the air that impressed one with the idea that some awful catastrophe was impending. The wind gradually died away; the crowd forgot the cry of fire; the races were trotted or run; and the visitors returned to town with no accident to mar, and only the dust to detract from their enjoyment of the day.

The races were better than usual, particularly in the 2:28 trot, and speculation on the merits of the horses contesting the different events all that the spectators could desire.

Among the visitors on the ground yesterday, and observers of events to-day was Mr. A. C. Beck with of Evanston, Wyoming, the owner of Wanda and Faust, and for his sake and the contests promised in the entries for the different events upon the program, it is to be regretted that Mr. Marcus Daly of Butte and Anaconda with his horses is so conspicuously absent.

The unfinished 2:40 trot was called at 11 o'clock, and Sister V. settled the contest. The first one heat. Appended is the summary:

Fourth race, purse $500, 2:40 class. Sister V., b. m. Sydney; Nettie Lambert, J. P. McNaughton, 1 2 1 1 J. F. by Reporter; Jesse F. Fancher, 2 1 2 2

Assa ch. m. 3; Longfield; Assaria, 107; Hazlett & Davis, 3 3

Jack Brady ran unplaced. Time, 1:47. With Nevada barred, first Jack Brady and then Moses B. alternated as choice in the auction pools. The pools sold would average about $75 each for Brady and Moses, while Assa sold for from $10 to $20. The race was a farce so far as any contest was concerned, Nevada winning in a canter under a pull.

Third race, Montana Derby, purse $500, $50 each, half for first; fourteen nominations—three starters.

Jubilee, b. g. Imp'd Kyrie Daly-Joy, 1 1 1 1 Broadchurch, ch. c. by Leinster, 2 2 2 2 Dundar, R. E. Bybee, 3 3 3 3

X. ch. c. Regent-Sadie Williams, H. K. Baker, 3 3 3 3

Time, 2:40. Mutuals paid $11.50.

Jubilee was favorite at first in the pools and then Broadchurch. Jubilee spread eagled his head, winning easily. There was never a doubt the race from the start to the finish. He ran like a wild horse right away from everything.

Fourth race—Trotting, 2:35 class—Purse $100.

John Henry, ch. g. Mambrino Pilot, dam, by Daniel Lambert—P. J. Williams, 2 1 1 1

Before the start Alta was favorite, bringing in the auction pools $25 to $35, against $20 to $25 for Hero, $10 to $15 for John Henry, $7 to $12 for George Mosher. After the first heat, Alta $50 to $100, John Henry $30 to $55, Hero $20 to $35, Mosher $12 to $15. After the third heat John Henry sold for $50 to $100, Alta $40 to $80, Mosher $10 to $20, Hero $5 to $10. It was Henry against the field in the fourth heat, and he won the race and each heat in the race with lots to spare. In the final heat he went under the wire with his ears pricked, looking first to one and then to the other side of the track.
